

Figure 1: A tree showing the De Casteljau algorithm for a cubic curve. The labels on the right show what type of curves are evaluated at that level, as well as the N dimensional sampling that is required to evaluate nodes at that level with a single texture read.